Meantime, returning to The Italian Wife it's clear that Kate Furnivall does first-class research. My own research confirmed that under fascist Mussolini, five new towns were built between 1932 and 1939 on the Pontine Plain, southwest of Rome, and that by 1933 upwards of 124,000 labourers were engaged in draining the marshes, and constructed some 10,000 miles of ditches and canals.

The Italian Wife By Kate Furnivall | Used - Very Good ...

The Italian Wife is a wonderful and gripping book about a woman's obsession with the death of her husband and attempted murder of herself. I was gripped by the descriptions of life with all its violence and hypocrisy under Mussolini even though his vision created new towns on marshes which had previously been impossible to inhabit.
